NEW YORK, N. Y., April 10, 1905.
Radium Radiator Company, 13 West 20th St.,
New York City.

Gentlemen:
Your "Radium Radiator" was recommended to me several weeks ago while I was suffering from an attack of lumbago in my back, which was so painful, that I was unable to do any work, and that for several days I was unable to bend over and the my shoes, and I think that it is proper to inform you that after two good rubs with the "Radium Radiator" the lumbago entirely left me, and I have not since suffered a return of it.
Shortly afterward while wrestling with Leo Pardo, I wrenched one of my knees so badly that it swelled to such an extent, and was so painful, that I was in great misery for several days.
Two or three applications of "Radium Radiator" reduced the swelling and relieved me of the pain, and I am very grateful to you for having put such a good liniment on the market.
I lose no opportunity in recommending it to athletes of all kinds as a splendid thing to rub with in their preparation for fights, wrestling, boxing and other contests, and I hear nothing but good reports from those who have used it, and I must say it is the quickest cure for relieving soreness and stiffness of muscles I have ever used.
Very sincerely yours,
THOMAS J. SHARKEY,

PHOTOGRAPHERS' CONVENTION.

Two Addresses at the Session This Morning.

Pennsylvania photographers, who are holding their annual convention at the National Rifles' Armory, listened to two interesting addresses this morning. The first was by Charles Wesley Hearne of Boston, who chose as his subject "Legitimate Photography." Mr. Hearne entered into his master with an apparent showing of being master of the matter in hand. His remarks were listened to with attention and were seemingly heartily applauded.

Prof. A. H. Griffith, an artist from Detroit who makes an annual visit to the association as a critic and lecturer, made interesting remarks, taking "Ambition and Belief" as his subject. He pointed out the importance of the subject, and the need of "Success" as his subject. Prof. Griffith gave some good advice along these lines, and at the conclusion of his address was thanked by those who heard him.
It was intended to choose the place for holding the next meeting, but at today's session the matter was held over until tomorrow.

This afternoon the delegates are spending in sightseeing.
The final business session will be held tomorrow afternoon, at which officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

Passion Week Observance.

The Lutheran churches of the city are observing Passion week by special services evening. At the Luther Place Memorial Church, Thomas Circle, the service tomorrow will be held at 11 o'clock, instead of in the evening, and will be specially appropriate to Good Friday. The pastor, Rev. J. G. Butler, will be in charge.
The interdenominational meeting for fasting and for prayer for revival upon the churches of the United States, held last Saturday in the Luther Place Memorial Church, will be repeated tomorrow (Friday) at 4:30 o'clock. The suggestion came from New York, and was acted upon by a number of clergymen and laymen.
The question of holding a similar meeting tomorrow was submitted to those present last Saturday, and was in receipt of a uniform decision that it should be held.

President Sent Sharp Message to Persia.

BROUGHT HER TO TERMS

DELAY IN PUNISHING MURDER-ERS OF REV. MR. LABAREE.

Official Correspondence on International Matters Published by the State Department.

Persia tried the patience of the American government severely last fall, because of her failure to punish the murderers of Rev. Benjamin W. Labaree, the American missionary. Six months after the murder, and after Mr. Tyler, the American charge at Teheran, had informed the State Department that the accomplices in the murder "would not be arrested unless a peremptory message is sent by the President," Secretary Hay sent a vigorous telegram, which the Persian government responded to by a similar message. The paraphrase appearing in the correspondence made public at the State Department today: "Mr. Hay states that the President is very much disturbed over the failure of the Persian government to punish the murderers of Mr. Labaree. If no immediate satisfaction is given he will be constrained to lay the matter before Congress, and recommended action as may lead to a compliance with our demand for effective justice."

This brought promises which were not fulfilled. After receiving the official assurance of the Crown Prince of Persia that "six accomplices endeavoring to escape were killed by the Persian forces, and that the remainder of the band is being pursued," Minister Pearson telegraphed the department "that information has been received from a reliable source that none of the accomplices in the murder of Mr. Labaree were killed, as reported, and that he has evident indignation and remonstrance against the trifling and temporizing and requests further instructions."

Secretary Hay then sent another dispatch, in which this is the official paraphrase:
"Mr. Hay states that the reported failure of the Persian government to punish the murderers of Mr. Labaree is a source of grave concern to the President, and that he cannot permit our just demands to be trifled with or evaded any longer. If no satisfactory action is taken before Congress meets, in less than two weeks, the President will be constrained to lay the matter before that body, and recommend such action as he may deem necessary."

Advance sheets of the Red Book for 1904 contain reports from the American legation at Athens, showing that as a result of Secretary Hay's note to the powers in London of the Roumanian Jews, their condition has been greatly improved, and no further anti-Jewish laws have been proposed in Roumania.

Other official correspondence made public today discloses the fact that at the time of a hostile encounter near Aguacillo last fall between Peruvian and Ecuadorian forces, Acting Secretary of State Adee directed the American minister at Lima to inquire as to the facts, and express "officially the earnest desire of the President that peace be preserved."

Because the American government refused to permit its diplomatic and consular agents in Peru to issue certificates of eligibility to American citizens, required by Peruvian law as a condition precedent to marriage with Peruvian, and because the Peruvian government took a similar position, the Lima government has indefinitely suspended the law.

KINDERGARTEN TALK

LECTURE IN ASSEMBLY HALL OF CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL.

About 700 teachers in the kindergarten and graded departments of the public schools of the District heard a lecture which was delivered in the assembly hall of the Central High School yesterday afternoon by Dr. Henry S. Curtis of the Associated Charities and supervisor of the playgrounds for 1905, on "Play in the Formation of Character." The meeting was held largely for the purpose of arousing the interest of the teachers of the younger pupils in the public schools in the movement for the establishment of public summer playgrounds in the city, and to have as much as each teacher feels that he took an active part in the playgrounds during the summer would themselves benefit and even rest. The speaker was introduced by A. T. Stuart, superintendent of schools of the District.

Dr. Curtis took the view that play is an essential in the proper development of a child's character, and that the habits the child forms in his play in early life will be his habits in after life. It is therefore necessary that play should form a part of the curriculum of the public schools, and should be under the direction of expert and trained teachers.
The difference in the manner of play of street urchins who have had no directions in the line of play and those of the children taught by kindergarten teachers. The illustrates the necessity for the teaching of play and games in the public schools. Cooperation may be taught, said Dr. Curtis, by placing the boys or girls together in teams where all must work together for the general success of the team.
In Germany, said Dr. Curtis, the play ground has reached its highest development. This is due to three causes. Physiologists noticed that the usual gymnastics did not best fit a man for the cares of life, the three essentials, are best developed by indulging in open air and athletic exercise. The second cause was the report of a commission, working along these lines, which visited English public school playgrounds and which reported favorably on the introduction of similar ideas in the German schools. Thirdly, congresses on tuberculosis pointed out the value of open air and athletic exercise in the prevention of diseases. Now examinations in the German schools include in the physical games, which are considered as important as those in mental studies.

Play in England.

In England, Dr. Curtis said, a certain time spent in play is a part of the requirement in the schools. Foot ball, cricket, and hockey are compulsory in all the public and preparatory schools of the empire. And in London the boarding schools are required to have thirty square feet of playground for every pupil.

America seems to be behind those countries in these matters; but now some movement is being made in almost every large city for the establishment of playgrounds in connection with the public schools. New York city has a curriculum of games in its public schools, but it has not been made compulsory. In this country the movement has taken the form of the establishment of summer playgrounds. The movement started as long ago as 1886, and it has spread to over 200 cities in different parts of the country.

The plans for Washington for the coming summer call for the establishment of ten vacation playgrounds, primarily for the benefit of the children, and in charge of a competent kindergarten teacher. To carry out this work Dr. Curtis said he wanted several things. He wants maps of all the schools in the city showing the space available for playgrounds and their condition.

He wants a plan of every vacant lot in the city which is at all suitable for use as a playground and its condition and statement as to whether or not the lots can be made available for this purpose. He wants to call parents' meetings at every school, in order to interest them in the plan. He wants to have $1 per child for the whole summer for the purpose of the playground.
He wants to have as much as each teacher feels that she can give during the summer in support of the playgrounds.

At the close of the lecture, Superintendent Stuart said to a Star reporter: "This work of establishing vacation playgrounds will have the hearty co-operation of the school teachers and pupils of the city. The schools have decided to expend $1,500 toward establishing ten vacation playgrounds, next summer. These will be intended for the smaller children, and it is our plan to have them in charge of a kindergarten teacher for half of each day. Five of the playgrounds will be for white children and five for colored. We plan to work in co-operation with the Associated Charities, and will try to establish our playgrounds in sections of the city where they have none and thus serve a wider range of people." Yesterday's lecture was given only to the teachers of schools for white children.
A similar one will be given before the 400 teachers of the colored schools shortly after Easter.
